

Workshop on Sustainability Challenges in Agriculture Production: Insights from Coffee, Palm Oil and Rice

In this workshop we will have practitioners and researchers come together to share their experience and insights about the sustainability in palm oil, coffee and rice. Practitioners will explain the initiatives of their organizations- 4C and Wild Asia - for driving and assessing sustainability in the coffee and palm oil sector. Moreover, researchers from the Center for Global Commons / Institute For Future Initiatives will present their research. The workshop aims to steer a dialogue about the challenges and possibilities for sustainable transformation in coffee, palm oil and rice sectors.
